chain and anchors

Those first confusing, hectic days filled with new names, new faces, new surroundings . . . unpacking all those things you were sure you would need but have no room to keep . . . shopping in Waynesboro for the first time and discovering that Newberry's sells everything . . . perhaps we were returning to familiar surroundings and friends . . . asking all types of questions about the summer because we were just too busy to write letters . . . we began to believe that life here would consist of bells and lines . . . we had to stand in line to get school stationery, to go to bank, to get textbooks, and to make out schedules . . . we saw the movie "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" and sat with our new "sisters" . . . those terrible standard tests we took that made us feel so stupid . . . the formal reception where we seemed to meet so many people, and got so confused that we were sure we could never get to know anyone . . . the first classes when we realized that we couldn't go on playing forever . . . the picnic at Coyner Springs with fried chicken and all the trimmings, playing softball, climbing trees, singing . . . Only after the light bell did we have time to think, and then we became a little homesick until our roommate whispered "Goodnight" and we drifted off to sleep . . . going to a strange church perhaps for the first time . . . the new girls went to a party at S.M.A. . . . when Monday came and classes started we settled down to the new routine, feeling like old Fairfax Hall girls.

The year progressed rapidly, leaving many wonderful memories . . . Ring Figure, Christmas concert, the Christmas party, the excitement of going home, exams, junior dance, Easter, May Day, and finally Laurel Chain and Graduation. Summer vacation is here again and suddenly it is all very sad and very wonderful because although many of us will return, some of us will never again come back to our old school. We will begin again to meet new names, new faces, and new surroundings.

The Will of The Senior Class

The last will and testament of the Senior Class of 1961 of Fairfax Hall of the City of Waynesboro, County of Augusta, State of Virginia, made and published this second day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixty-One.

We, the Senior Class of Fairfax Hall, being of sound and disposing mind and memory, do hereby make, publish and declare this our last will and testament in manner following, that is to say:

ARTICLE I

Section I

We, the Senior Class of 1961, do hereby will and bequeath to Fairfax Hall, our beloved Alma Mater, our everlasting devotion and our heartfelt indebtedness to the old building that has sheltered us and afforded us many wonderful experiences together.

Section II

We, the Senior Class of 1961, do hereby will and bequeath to Mr. W. B. Gates, Jr., our President, our gratitude for his constant endeavor to make our senior year the most enjoyable and unforgettable of our high school days.

Section III

We, the Senior Class of 1961, do hereby will and bequeath to Dean Robbins L. Gates our profound appreciation for his ceaseless eagerness to aid us in preparation for college and his tolerance of our "But I don't want to go to college!" moods.

Section IV

We, the Senior Class of 1961, do hereby will and bequeath to Mr. Harry Nash our thanks for all of his help at the time of our dance, and a J. J. Newberry ruby ring, knowing that he will never forget Ring Figure 1960.

Section V

We, the Senior Class of 1961, do hereby will and bequeath to Miss Lillian Bruce, our Dean and Sponsor, our sincere thanks for all she has done for us, and two escalators to make her many journeys to the third floor gym and to the sophomore dormitory quicker and easier.

Section VI

We, the Senior Class of 1961, do hereby will and bequeath to the faculty of Fairfax Hall our profound gratitude for the patience and persistence they have displayed in imparting to our sometimes seemingly impenetrable minds the education which will influence the rest of our lives.

ARTICLE II

I, Sara Anderson, being of skinny body and stagnant mind, do leave all my Kennedy posters to anyone who promises not to draw moustaches on them. To Dean Gates I dedicate my new book, "How to Teach Government without Diagrams."

I, Betty Sue Bailey, after long thought and careful consideration, do hereby will and bequeath to Linda Barth my ability to get a letter every day from that special boy, and to Mrs. Loving I leave my love for all the acids in the chemistry lab.

I, Becky Barton, do hereby devise, will and bequeath to Sharon Buckland my open-air tennis shoes, and to Allen Simpson I leave my 10,000-page dictionary for use in letter reading.

I, Jeanette Broyhill, being of tall body and no mind, do hereby leave my room next to Mrs. Maupin to anyone who likes to hear bathtubs running at 11:00 p.m.

I, Bonnie Brucker, being of smoke-filled lungs, broken finger nails, straight hair, run hose, and bereaved heart, do hereby leave Fairfax Hall, entrusting to Dean Gates all my booklets, pamphlets, and catalogues on Vassar and Bryn Mawr and I hope that he will find a senior in the future who will be fond of either daisies or tea.

I, Ruth Bulkeley, do hereby devise, will and bequeath to Joan Livers my ability to sprain ankles on the tennis court.

I, Beverly Bush, leave to Linda Curtis my locker in the Town Girls' Room—and Waynesboro, I hope!

I, Michele Carrico, being of sound Republican mind and body, do hereby will and bequeath all my cherished Nixon and Lodge buttons to Dean Gates in the hope that he will eventually realize their merit.

I, Peggy Chalmers, after hours of careful thought, do leave to Susan Durst my ability to stay out of study hall. To Maria Ruiz I leave my love for Fairfax and to Frankie Privott my ability to stay out of trouble.

I, Jane Chapman, being of absolutely no mind, do leave to Jenny Christie my ability to come out with weird comments in gym class. To Lynda Nichols I leave my knack for remaining faithful to the boy back home, and to Tut I leave my remarkable talent for playing basketball.

I, Ceci Clover, being of absent mind and uncoordinated body, do hereby leave our mice to anyone who wants them; all the boy problems in the whole, wide world to Dee Dandridge; and to all a guarantee that Duke University's the greatest!

I, Penny Coll, will everything I don't have but wish I did have to anyone who has the nerve to take it, and to Kathy Dye and Maria Ruiz I leave my love for laughter.

I, Claire Eby, leave my entire estate, which includes a pile of memories and a pile of pistachio nut shells to Janet Christian. To Rusty Shepherd, Joy D'Angelo, and "Baby Huey" I leave the largest pizza in the world.

I, Pat Ellis, leave my love of chess to Ring Figure '62 and my love of freedom to Terri Fawcett.

I, Claire Farley, being of scheming mind, do will and bequeath my ability to make good impressions to Stephanie Sears, my good nature (?) to Jeep Willis, and do hereby leave Mary Tutwiler.

I, Ellie Felburn, do hereby leave to Barbara Luck and Susie Hill all the fun we have had at the hunts, and hope that they have even more fun next year. To Val, Andrine, and Susie I leave all the food at Fairfax so they won't starve during the next three years.

I, Peggy Findley, do will and bequeath my room next to the Smoker to anyone who enjoys hearing the flipping of cigarettes at all times.

I, Betty Lind Frederickson, still in the state of "I can't" and being unable to be graceful or do anything right, leave my love of sports to Maryann Robbins and Bettie Carter. I also leave, what little is left, my dislike for singed rugs to Suzy Moss. I bequeath all my sympathy to Dean Gates and Mrs. Loving if they ever again have to deal with someone like me.

I, Pat Fribush, do hereby will my ability to consistently miss the basket to Ginny Spackman. To Maria Ruiz and Susie Durst I leave my many wonderful moments at A.M.A.

I, Fran Fulghum, do solemly leave my philosophy of life to Suzy Moss with the hope that she will use it to good advantage.

I, Jennifer Ganskopp, leave my love for horses to Anita Hall and Sandi Norton, and my love for Venezuela to Tracy Steiner.

I, Courtney Greene, do hereby bequeath to Jane McHendry two more years at Fairfax, knowing that they will be good years.

I, Annalee Griswold, do hereby will my love of gym uniforms to Diane Turner and to Beth Johnson the position of always lighting cigarettes wherever she may go.

I, Margaret Holmes, do hereby leave my love and memories of Fairfax to Tammy Jenkins. My position as "Uncle Sam" I leave to anyone who feels that she can cope with "Did I get a letter today?" My memories of the University of North Carolina I take back home with me.

I, Virginia Huffman, being physically and mentally exhausted, leave my ability to study to Su-Allan Latchum, my love problems to Diane Turner, and my ever-flaring temper to Maryann Robbins.

I, Alice Jameson, do hereby leave all the mice in school to Allen Simpson. To Alice Tolley I leave my name, and to "little" Janet Horne I give my best wishes for her senior year. I leave "Honey Baby."

I, Annette Kovac, do leave to Barbie Nagle my single room and hope that she won't peel any more wall paper off the wall. I will to Sara Jane Carter my napkin ring without a napkin. Maria Ruiz may have the Shorthand II class next year.

I, Diane Long, will to Linda Curtis and Diane Dandridge my love for Glee Club and Choir.

I, Mimi Lord, leave all the cotton gins in the world to Mary Tutwiler in case she ever falls for any Eli who's not a Whitney, and I leave all my freckles to Carole Lober because they won't show.

I, Katherine Minnich, leave to my roommate, "Ivyness" Simpson, all the "Disaster" in the world in hopes that the "mooch" doesn't get it. To Jessie MacDougald I gladly leave the "Crescent" so she'll always have transportation from Atlanta to Never-Never-Land. To Baird, "Honey Baby," and Stephanie I leave all the snow in Alaska.

I, Nancy Mitchell, leave my love for horses to Sonja Parrish; my clothes to Barbie Nagle, my good times to Susie Flanagan, my fun in gym class to Jenny Christie. Kay Fleharty and Lynda Nichols, and my problems to everyone.

I, Linda Motley, hereby bequeath "The Cage" to Jenny Christie and Carole Lober, A.M.A. and N.C. to Elise McAllister, the Delaware tradition to Su-Allan Latchum, my love for Yankeeland to Liz Nelson, those cute Delaware boys to Diana Dandridge, and all oatmeal cookies to Val Orth.

I, Maggie Mullens, being of too many activities, do hereby leave all the junk in my room to Tracy Steiner, Val Birney, Susie Matthiesen, and Andrine Adams. To anyone who would be crazy enough to attempt it, I leave my career of not-so-good grades and too many activities.

I, Cookie Phillips, do hereby leave all my great memories of F.M.S. to Chris Hartman and my love for the great state of Connecticut to Sue Kenney. I also leave all my empty Metracal cans to Jodie Traylor.

I. Kay Pippin, do hereby leave all my "granny gowns" to dear Mrs. Epes, and my special page in "The Book" to all the latecomers to breakfast.

I, Sandy Rhead, leave what's left of S.M.A. to Jane Ferguson.

I, Beth Robinson, leave all my Metracal to Janet Christian, my seat at Miss de la Torre's table to Barbara Kohn, and to Stephanie Sears I leave Lucky.

I, Nikki Roth, leave my love of French to next year's students.

I, Nancy Shepard, do leave Kathy Williams my love of gym class and hope that she does as well as I did.

I, Kathie Shull, hereby leave to my sister, Hydie, my habits of having a messy room and staying out of study hall. Also I leave the military schools to anyone who wants them.

I, Anne Smith, do hereby leave the mice in room 104 to Allen Simpson, my smoking ability to Janet Horne, my height to H. B. Landrum, a deck of cards to Jeep Willis, and my southern accent to Mosey.

I, Lani Tripp, hereby will to those poor miserable souls who stay in room 125 my earplugs for protection against the most exasperating, obnoxious, and repugnant terror in the hall — the bell!

I. Kitty Turk, leave my ability to trip over rug corners, beds, and even cigarette butts to Jessie MacDougald. I also leave F.M.S. but I'm taking a cadet with me.

I, Eleanor Watson, being in a total rush, do hereby bequeath my fondness for scales to Myrtis McMahan, my ability to speak Latin and French to Susan Matthiesen, and my enjoyment of being at the latter part of the alphabet to Mary Sue Younger.

I, Arnette Wilder, leave to Mary Sue Younger all my love for Hayhead; to Lisa von Schlieben a milkshake in memory of some of her friends, and to Linda Gellatly I leave my music to "Sweet Little Jesus Boy" and the hope that she will continue to excel in music.

I, Bunky Witham, being of doubting mind, do hereby leave to the school my job as "Guide for the Washington Trip."

Lastly, we the Senior Class of 1961, do hereby nominate and appoint Miss Lillian Bruce to be executor of this, our last will and testament, hereby revoking all former wills and testamentary instruments made.

In witness whereof we hereby subscribe our names and set our seals this second day of June, in the year of our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixty-One.

Class Prophecy

The time is June 3, 1971, and the class of '61 has finally made it to Fort Lauderdale, Florida, to see if this is really "where the boys are."

Unfortunately three members of the class couldn't make it. Diane Long couldn't miss her Friday Bridge Club; she's teaching the Indians in Oklahoma to play bridge. Bunky Witham had to stay in New York for the publication of her new book, "Why the South Really Did Win the War", and Cookie Phillips couldn't get away from the Congo where she is now employed to teach the natives how to be "ivy".

The rest of the class did come, however, the first arrival being Jeanette Broyhill who was vacationing on her yacht from her job of making out the College Board Examinations in Princeton. Katherine Minnich flew in from Paris where she had been teaching the French to speak with a southern accent. Anne Smith came in right behind Katherine and told us that she is now working in New York as a model for fingernail polish. Traveling with Anne was Cookie Greene who is the head buyer for Saks Fifth Avenue. Sara Anderson arrived from Georgia and told us that she has bought out all the Donut Dinettes and has changed their name to Doughnit Dinut.

After most of the class had arrived we bombed over to the "Elbow Room" where Arnette Wilder was appearing with Ruth Bulkeley who is now playing progressive jazz. Beth Robinson and Claire Farley met us there; they had never left Fort Lauderdale after their spring vacation in 1961.

Late arrivals included Margaret Holmes and Ginger Huffman. They are now joint Postmasters-General for the United States and they still get hysterical if anyone says, "Did I get any mail?"

After the "Elbow Room" we decided to try the beach where we found Betty Sue Bailey and Annette Kovac recovering from explosion burns which they received while teaching Chemistry at Fairfax Hall. Just then an odd creature with leotards and a sweat shirt strolled up and it turned out to be Pat Ellis who has become a beatnik in Greenwich Village. A cable arrived from Winnie Ganskopp and Maggie Mullens saying that they would be late because of another revolution in Venezuela and that Lani Tripp had already left on her raft since it was impossible to get a plane. The two Fairfax Hall representatives to Hollywood appeared surrounded by poodles and mink. Nikki Roth has become internationally famous for her dramatic portrayal of Tinker Bell in "Peter Pan" and Eleanor Watson has become a method actress.

Then an invasion from the North occurred. Bonnie Brucker, and Becky Barton arrived together. Becky came from Massachusetts where she has been writing pamphlets on tolerance and equality and then dropping them over Georgia from a plane piloted by Bonnie. Bonnie is an interior decorator on the side and has just finished redecorating the White House where she saw Michele Carrico, the Chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Class Prophecy

Annalee Griswold, who received the Pulitzer Prize for her collection of bedtime stories, arrived with Mimi Lord, who has finally succeeded in her life-long ambition to be a playgirl. Then we stumbled across Janie Chapman and Kay Pippin in the sand; they are collaborating on a new book on child behavior. They should be experts since each of them has several children.

Ceci Clover waved at us from a ship on which she had just returned from her eighth trip around the world. For some reason the authorities would not let her get off the boat. Also on the beach we saw Nancy Mitchell who has had great success in Hawaii modeling muu-muus. Nancy gave us the news about Betty Lind Frederickson who is working in a mental institution where she keeps mumbling "I can't do it." She grows apples on the side. Peggy Findley and Peggy Chalmers seemed the most contented of the whole class. Fig has finally found a wonder drug which makes her gain weight. Unfortunately it got out of hand and now she can't stop. Peggy Chalmers has found a pill that has enabled her to reach her desired height of 5′ 2″.

Back at the hotel we found Beverley Bush and Linda Motley who claimed that the fresh air was too much for them and they wouldn't go to the beach. Beverley is now a housemother at Fishburne and Linda has become headmistress of Dover Military Academy with the announced purpose of livening Dover up.

Among the many people in our class who have received honors, everyone agreed that Alice Jameson did the best. She received the National Award of Honor for killing the most people with looks. Penny Coll said that she had been elected Miss Teddybear of 1971 by her kindergarten class and her husband. Another famous figure was Claire Eby who had been nationally acclaimed for her calm, cool nerves when discovering a body. Her only comment was, "Christian, you'll never believe this." Pat Fribush appeared in her hula skirt and said that she had been chosen Miss Hawaii where she now teaches Hula dancing.

Sandy Rhead and Fran Fulghum arrived complete with casts and bandages. They are now teaching riding classes with emphasis on "how to bounce when you fall." Ellie Felburn, also a horsewoman, told us that she had become the first woman member of the Canadian Mounted Police. With them was Nancy Shepard, who has just completed her new book, "The Merits of Private Schools." The very last class members to arrive were Kitty Turk and Kathie Shull who are now joint owners of a motel business. Their only complaint was the broken beds which had been damaged by jumping.

We have a very busy schedule because ever since 1961 when that movie about spring vacation in Fort Lauderdale was shown in Waynesboro we have all been dying to come to get our suntans, and now that we have drivers' licenses we must go to the "Elbow Room" again. Of course, if there do happen to be some boys here none of the class of '61 will mind. As a matter of fact, we are on our way to see if the boys down the hall who are having that party really are from Yale.
